

Chambers Again Recognizes Griffith Davison As Leading Lawyers

DALLAS, TX (May 7, 2020) – Griffith Davison, P.C. is honored to once again be ranked as a leading construction law firm by Chambers. In their most recently released guide Chambers USA 2020: America's Leading Lawyers for Business, the publication recognized the Griffith Davison firm and two of its attorneys for their industry expertise and experience in field of Construction law.

Specific highlights taken from the Chambers USA 2020 rankings include:

- Griffith Davison, P.C. is known as a “strong group that acts for a range of clients, including owners and general contractors. Performs consistently well in contract drafting and negotiation, bringing to bear significant corporate and real estate experience. Demonstrates extensive litigation expertise as well as notable strength in arbitration and mediation. Handles disputes related to defects, damages and construction agreements. Notable industry experience in the commercial, residential and industrial facility development sectors.”
- Scott Griffith has a “quality reputation and is well thought of as a litigator,” according to market sources. He frequently acts in complex litigation and dispute resolution proceedings on behalf of contractors, owners and developers
- Kimberly Davison has widely recognized expertise in construction-related transactional and contractual matters, especially in the commercial and residential development sectors. Clients say: “She is a great negotiator and always looks out for our best interests, allowing us to make business decisions based on her recommendations.”

Chambers USA ranks the top lawyers and law firms nationwide based on independent research assessing technical legal ability, client service, diligence, and professional conduct among other qualities. According to Chambers, their construction section covers contractual advisor work within the construction industry for both the suppliers (e.g. developers, contractors, engineers and architects), and those clients employing these types of companies.

###

About Griffith Davison

Griffith Davison, P.C. is a boutique law firm, which focuses on the legal needs of the commercial construction and real estate industry. Founded in 1993, the firm provides services in the areas of construction law, commercial real estate, complex commercial litigation and corporate transactions. Griffith Davison understands the construction and real estate industry and works closely with its clients at every phase to help them navigate the legal landscape, manage risk and achieve success.

For more information visit us online at www.GriffithDavison.com or call us at (972) 392-8900.