Overview

Aly C. Halpern is an attorney in Griffith Davison's Fort Worth office, where she focuses her practice on construction, real estate, and business transactions. A Fort Worth native, Aly assists clients with a wide range of contractual matters, providing thoughtful and practical counsel to help ensure projects move forward smoothly and successfully. Having begun her career handling both litigation and transactional work, Aly brings a valuable dual perspective to her practice. Her background in dispute resolution allows her to anticipate potential risks and structure agreements in ways that minimize exposure and prevent future conflicts. When challenges do arise, Aly stands ready to respond swiftly and effectively to protect her clients' interests.

Aly is dedicated to building trusted, long-term relationships with all her clients. She believes effective representation goes beyond legal analysis—it requires understanding each client's goals, priorities, and business realities. Aly previously served as an Adjunct Professor of Business Law at Texas Christian University's Neely School of Business. In her free time, Aly enjoys spending time with friends and family, playing tennis, and traveling.
